L.B.: Discovering the Inner Light is a heartwarming children's picture book written by Michal Berg, with illustrations by Margarita Sada. The story follows L.B., a curious beetle on her journey of self-discovery and personal growth. At the beginning, L.B. is uncertain about the meaning of her name and believes she is not special. However, as she faces her fears, overcomes feelings of loneliness, and stands up for her friend, she begins to wonder what gives her the courage to take these actions. Through her experiences, L.B. learns to recognize her unique inner light and the power of music, which helps her gain confidence and embrace her true self. This revelation ultimately leads her to understand the meaning of her name.

L.B.: Discovering the Inner Light is an inspiring tale that encourages children to embrace their true selves and discover their inner strength. It teaches them that everyone possesses a bright, wise, and powerful light within, which empowers them to be kind, brave, and resilient. Although L.B. believed she was ordinary, she discovered that by believing in herself, she could achieve extraordinary things. All she needed was faith in her guiding light and inner voice. The book illustrates that we all have the opportunity to change the world and our lives for the better, one step at a time, by showing kindness to ourselves and others, courageously facing challenges, and standing against injustice. Michal Berg presents these important lessons in a way that children can relate to and understand. This message is also applicable to adults, making the book a wonderful choice for family story time. The colorful illustrations perfectly complement the story, bringing the characters and their natural environment to life. I thoroughly enjoyed this book and highly recommend sharing it with your children to teach them to believe in themselves and the inner light that guides them to accomplish great things."
